KITTY HAWK KITES OUR STORY

In 1973, while reading an issue of the Winston-Salem Journal, I came across a photograph of someone flying a hang glider in Utah. The image immediately reignited in me a passion for flight that was initially sparked when I was a child, building and flying kites on a farm in Missouri. The moment I saw that picture, I couldn't sleep or think about anything else. In 1974, we founded Kitty Hawk Kites with the plan of teaching the world to fly.

Over the last 45 years, Kitty Hawk Kites has grown into the largest hang gliding school in the country. In addition to hang gliding lessons, we offer more than 25 adventures, from surfing and kiteboarding lessons to dolphin and kayak tours. Everybody needs more joy in their life—not only is it exhilarating, but it changes your outlook on life. I am grateful that I found my passion and have been able to share it with people all these years!

WE'VE SEEN HANG GLIDING, KITEBOARDING, AND KITE FLYING CHANGE PEOPLE'S LIVES.

We invite you to peruse this Adventure Catalog and find an activity that will bring you joy. For nearly 50 years we have been teaching the world to fly...because if you can fly, you can do anything!

THE MANY SIDES OF THE OUTER BANKS

written by BEN SALTZMAN

The term “the Outer Banks” evokes different images for different people. Some picture wide open sandy beaches and gentle waves—the ideal setting for their family vacation. Others see opportunities for adventure in the most extreme—hard blowing wind for an epic downwinder, or double-overhead waves for a surf session that would give Oahu’s North Shore a run for its money.

The Outer Banks has something for everyone. Here’s how you can make the most of your visit to this coastal paradise.

UP IN THE AIR

When people think of the Outer Banks, one of the first things they think of is flight. After all, this is the home to the Wright Brother’s National Memorial and their historic first flight.

Kitty Hawk Kites has been teaching the world to fly for nearly 50 years over the soft sand dunes of Jockey’s Ridge. To date, nearly half a million people have taken their first flight here. Jockey’s Ridge presents the ideal terrain for learning to hang glide, because of the smooth and consistent ocean breezes and soft sand for landings. Tandem hang gliding lessons at the Cotton Gin offer a bird’s eye view of the Outer Banks and a one-of-a-kind experience. Flying with an instructor, tandem flights climb to altitudes over 2000 feet and provide a 360-degree panorama of the Outer Banks coastline.

Kiteboarding, which combines wind and water in a thrilling experience, seems ideally suited to the Outer Banks, and Hatteras Island is widely viewed to be the best location for learning to kiteboard.

The Pamlico Sound has waist-deep water, a soft/sandy bottom, and consistent clean winds, so you can go from zero to hero in no time.

Parasailing adventures also provide an extraordinary sense of floating above the world. A boat will pull one, two, and even three people at a time, taking guests high above the Sound to enjoy breathtaking views of the Outer Banks.

The 1902 Wright Glider replica, built by the Wright Experience, is one of a few in existence and the only one of its kind available for the public to fly.

MEET THE LOCALS

If your interest is eco-tourism, the Outer Banks offers many opportunities to get up close to the wildlife. In Corolla, the wild horses roam free, dancing along the beaches and even swimming in the ocean. The best way to see the wild horses is on a tour, so you can understand how these horses arrived on the Outer Banks, how they live, and to what lengths local organizations are taking to preserve the herd and their habitat. Be careful not to get too close, though...you must stay within 50 feet from these protected animals, and you must not feed them, as many common food items such as apples and carrots are toxic to these majestic creatures.

The network of lagoons and waterways in the Outer Banks makes up part of the second-largest estuary in the United States. You can see the wildlife for yourself aboard a dolphin tour. Operated by the Nags Head Dolphin Watch, each tour is run by research biologists with the Outer Banks Center for Dolphin Research. Aboard a covered 40-foot pontoon boat, you have the chance to observe bottlenose dolphins, pelicans, and osprey. Kayak eco tours and fishing excursions are also a fantastic way to witness this unique biodiversity for yourself.

SOUNDSIDE SESSIONS

For anyone interested in the hidden story of the Outer Banks, the sound side offers beautiful natural preserves and riveting history. There are natural hiking trails in the Currituck Banks Reserve, Kitty Hawk Woods, Nags Head Natural Preserve, and Buxton Woods.

Roanoke Island, which is home to Manteo and Wanchese, is steeped in American history. The Lost Colony, America’s longest-running symphonic drama, tells the story of the first English settlers of the Outer Banks and the local indigenous tribes who inhabited the area. A Walking Ghost tour in downtown Manteo explains the spooky stories that make the Outer Banks one of the most haunted beaches in America.

Wild Horse Tours and Dolphin Tours are popular options to see the local wildlife in action.

BEACH BUMS

Some people just want to sit back, relax, and gaze out into the wide ocean expanse as it laps onto the shore. Since the Outer Banks is known around the world for its warm summers and steady wind, there are many ways to enjoy a beautiful beach day with the family. You can grab a kite and set it high into the air to enjoy how the vibrant colors contrast against the bright blue sky. If you want a little more action, the ocean in summer is perfect for watersports like learning to surf, paddleboarding, skimboarding, or taking out an ocean kayak. Jockey’s Ridge, the tallest living sand dune on the East Coast and a marvel of ecological biodiversity, is a fantastic family destination. The park features three unique hiking and walking trails, and kite flying has been a favorite at the dunes for decades because of the consistent ocean breezes and wide-open space away from trees and power lines.

Whether this is your first trip to the Outer Banks, or if you come here every year, there are countless ways for you to make this trip one to remember.

Ben Saltzman is Marketing Director with Kitty Hawk Kites. His favorite ways to enjoy the Outer Banks are surfing on an SUP and flying stunt kites on Jockey’s Ridge.

On a dolphin tour, you can learn about population ecology, movement patterns, health, and behavior of coastal bottlenose dolphins.

WING SURFING

GET READY TO TAKE OFF

RODANTHE (WAVES VILLAGE WATERSPORTS)

Wing Surfing (Winging, Wing Foiling, Wingding) uses a hand-held inflatable "wing" to propel oneself on the water using the power of wind. Though it can be done on standard paddleboard (SUP) with the addition of center fin or keel, it is most commonly paired with a hydrofoil and foilboard. The low resistance of the hydrofoil allows the wind to push you in the air and glide above the water with the use of the wing. The sport is a cross between kiteboarding, windsurfing, foiling surfing and paddleboarding.

GROUPS

The Outer Banks is the perfect destination for groups of all sizes. From large church, scouting, or school groups to family reunions and weddings, the Outer Banks has lots to offer and Kitty Hawk Kites can help. We offer many activities that can be adapted to your large group.

Come explore the Colonial Spanish Mustang herd with a 4x4 tour that includes exclusive access to the Wild Horse Conservation Easement in Carova. Or you can learn all about the dolphins that frequent our area with a guide from the Outer Banks Center for Dolphin Research where your group can participate in active research.

Interested in the legends and lore of the Outer Banks? Take a walking ghost tour of Manteo to learn about the hauntings of such storied locations as the Lost Colony or Cape Hatteras Lighthouse. A walking history tour will spin tales of the past and the infamous Graveyard of the Atlantic. Or explore pirate culture and history while walking with pirates!

Group hang gliding off the dunes at Jockey's Ridge State Park gives everyone a chance to learn about the history of hang gliding and get into the air on a hang glider. Learn to soar while taking 5 flights off the dunes.

Want to learn more about the flora and fauna of the Outer Banks? Take a guided kayak tour and explore locations along the entire banks from Corolla to Hatteras. You can even paddle with alligators, black bears and red wolves in the Alligator River National Wildlife Refuge while learning what really happened to Buffalo City.

Fishing is a staple of the Outer Banks community. The perfect way to explore the sound is a trip on the Miss Oregon Inlet head boat. Offering half day and twilight trips, the MOI provides all tackle and bait and loads of fun. Catch and release, or the crew can pack your catch to take home.

If you feel like a more private adventure, rent some pontoon boats. Kitty Hawk Kites has 12- and 16-passenger boats for rent. Spend 2 hours or all day on the water fishing, swimming and exploring our sound islands.

If your group tends toward the younger crowd, consider booking a kite making clinic. Learn some of the dynamics behind flight while making your own kite. Then head out to Jockey's Ridge State Park to fly your creations.

Wedding parties or large groups can also rent our Mirror Me Photo Booth, our Hang Gliding simulator, Wax Hands booth, and Splash Blast. All kinds of fun activities for your family BBQ, wedding, or birthday party!

A group of hang glider pilots on Jockey's Ridge, 2019.

The Mirror Me photobooth is a great fit for weddings and parties.

Miss Oregon Inlet makes for a fun day out for groups of kids, adults, and families.
